Part I: February 2-7, 2013

Part II: Case Study and Mentorship Process

Part III: September 13-16, 2013

This training is designed not only for people who wish to practice professionally with clients, but also for anyone who'd like to integrate this work into their current profession, or who's interested in applying it to their own personal growth.

The purpose of The Wisdom of Your Face is to help people re-discover their original nature, so that they can begin to make choices that will lead them into a more balanced and healthy life, physically, emotionally, spiritually. It is not psychotherapy, or medical diagnosis or treatment.

Jean's work is about creating an affirming, empowering environment for people, with a goal of opening new possibilities in their hearts, and supporting them in taking responsibility for their own growth and transformation. It can be used for clients who are already well on their path, or for those who are feeling stuck and desiring change. It is also appropriate for people who are experiencing crisis, in conjunction with other treatment, to help allow new insights and directions for healing.

The Practitioner Training will focus on providing professional-level ability to compassionately read and reflect someone's inner design to them with a goal of creating effective and sustainable change. It will also include training to evaluate and work with the energetics of their situation. To do thorough work with a client, it's necessary to be aware of the influence of other people's energy on them, from the past into the present, as well as to consider the impact of the spaces they inhabit.

Participants will be trained to develop and deepen their:

- Understanding of how to use the model of the Five Element cycle from Chinese medicine
- Ability to read someone's energy
- Diagnostic skills to detect imbalances
- Insights about the holistic picture; the influences of others throughout life
- Methods to subtly and gently restore balance and open opportunities for deep transformation
- Ability to return lost essence to clients; helping them create a healthier life
- Tools for ongoing personal transformation

PART I – February 2-7, 2013 - San Diego, CA

- Energy Sensing:
  - Managing your own energy fields
  - Learning to feel energy; refining control of the dial
  - Developing your sensitivity; discovering your strengths
- Getting out of the way:
  - How to navigate your own nature within the consultation setting
  - Your own continuing personal development

PART II - Internship and Mentoring

In order to fully integrate the training and gain real-life experience in working with clients, you will need to do a minimum of ten case study consultations. This internship process is essential for you to develop your 'muscles' with this work, get your own experience, make mistakes, come up with dozens of new questions, and be personally mentored by Jean.

The case studies must be with people you do not know personally. They must be in-person, and at least one hour in length. Case study clients must be willing to fill out a short email survey for Jean after their consultation with you. You may charge people for this service as long as you inform them you are in an internship program and still learning.

Each case study consultation will need to be audio-recorded for Jean's review, with 4 photos of your client (front/profile/2 ears). Jean will then share detailed guidance and feedback. Students will have access to each other's case studies, as this provides rich opportunities for learning and support.

PART III - September 13-16, 2013 - San Diego, CA

Part Three of the training will take place after you have completed all your Part II case studies. It consists of a 4-day intensive to fine-tune your skills, and further deepen your knowledge, your techniques with clients, and your own personal transformation with this work.

CERTIFICATION

(Professional certification is not guaranteed. You may be asked to complete further case studies, or schedule personal mentoring with Jean.)

Upon certification, you will have your own Practitioner listing on Jean's website, and will also be able to receive referrals from our office. (There will be a reasonable annual fee to pay for the work to build and maintain your listing on the site.)

As a certified practitioner, you will be able to assist and mentor new students at workshops, the best way to further develop your understanding. Certified practitioners also qualify to eventually move into teaching this work.

To keep your professional certification active, it will be necessary for you to attend at least one advanced training each year, for continuing education purposes. Trainings with other approved teachers may be considered as well.

The Practitioner Training Program is by application only; admission is not guaranteed. Basic pre-requisites are:

- Read Jean's books, "The Wisdom of Your Face" and "The Wisdom of Your Child's Face" at least twice
- Completion of the four-day workshop, "The Wisdom of Your Face"

It is also recommended that people who are interested in being practitioners attend this course more than once, and take every opportunity to participate in phone or in-person practice sessions or schedule personal mentoring sessions with Jean. This is a rich knowledge, with many layers, and the more exposure you have to it, the better you'll be able to integrate it into a solid understanding

NOTE: You do not have to complete the pre-requisite workshop before applying for the Practitioner Training.

IMPORTANT: You're not required to commit to the full training. You may simply attend Part I and then decide if you intend to continue.
